

Trilby de Jung CEO

Trilby de Jung joined Common Ground Health, (Formerly FLHSA) in January, 2014 as CEO of the organization. Since 2003, de Jung has served as senior health law attorney at Empire Justice Center, a statewide nonprofit law firm whose aim is to improve systems affecting low-income families. Her work includes coalition building, staff and program management, and healthcare policy analysis and advocacy. Prior to joining Empire Justice Center, de Jung served as faculty at New York University School of Law from 1995 to 1999, and was the deputy director of policy at the AIDS Institute of the New York State Department of Health from 1992 to 1995.