

Nancy Giunto, Washington Health Alliance

Nancy Giunto serves as executive director of Washington Health Alliance, a multi-stakeholder nonprofit that offers objective reporting of progress on measures of healthcare quality and value, as well as a trusted forum for critical conversations about healthcare system improvement. Since joining the Alliance in September 2014, Nancy has overseen the organization's strategic direction as it enters its second decade, including its legislative agenda, continued statewide expansion, and the publication of new reports. Nancy is also responsible for the Alliance's partnership with the Washington State Health Care Authority's Healthier Washington initiative, which includes the development and publication of results for the Washington Common Measure Set on Health Care Quality and Cost. Previously Nancy served 14-years as executive director of Foster Pepper law firm in Seattle, where she purchased healthcare for close to 300 attorneys and staff.
