

Designed to meet members where they are, and connect them with other organizations at a similar stage while also providing guidance from those who have gone before them. In person and virtual events build engagement and speed learning, mentorship provides a customized learning experience. While the core content is standardized, the wrap-around support of the online community, events, and mentors result in a customized experiences that speeds adoption and implementation. As members move through the peer group continuum, they mentor those coming up behind them – a learn-do-teach model.
